WARWICK WORDS: BEHIND THE BLUE DOOR -140TH ANNIVERSARY
The School Hall, King's High

<https://warwickwords.co.uk/index.php/whats-on>

Millions have wandered past Eastgate, the Smith Street cottages and Landor House over the past 140 years, little knowing that they housed one of the country's leading girls' schools. These tardis-like buildings were also once home to chanting monks, an inn, and a cantankerous poet. Discover the history of girls' education from the shocks of introducing Euclid to young ladies in crinolines, to the creative educational powerhouse of the 2010s. Polly Beidas, King's High Old Girl and co-author of a new history of the school, will reveal the story of the ground breaking women, (and even some men!), who developed the school from just 21 Victorian pupils to today's 712 girls ready to face the modern world.

PASTORAL FORUM: "PREVENTING MENTAL HEALTH PROBLEMS IN CHILDREN" Dr Aric Sigman
The School Hall, King's High

We are delighted to welcome back Dr Sigman to King's High. An eminent psychologist, his research has led him to be invited to regularly brief Governmental committees and European parliamentary groups. A published novelist and impressive speaker, I am confident that he will give us an interesting insight into strategies to support our children. Do come along and bring your friends as well.

Tuesday 15 October, 7.00pm

YEAR 7 CONCERT
The School Hall, King's High

For Year 7 parents

All Year 7 pupils present their first concert at King's, featuring individual, choir and ensemble performances, including the first glimpse of the students performing on instruments they have only just started to explore.

Wednesday 16 October, 7.00pm

INSPIRE LECTURE
Innovation Room, King's High

Our first Inspire Lecture at our new site will be led by Dr Miriam Gifford, a Professor in the Life Sciences at Warwick University. Dr Gifford will speak on our theme of 'new beginnings', hoping to inspire all King's Scientists to aim high in their aspirations and grow as creative, independent thinkers. These lectures are a chance for students, parents and staff to gather to listen to an expert and have intellectual horizons widened.

Thursday 7 November, 4.30pm

SENIOR PRODUCTION - Little Shop of Horrors

Bridge House Theatre

King's High School and Warwick School are proud to present Little Shop of Horrors, the hilarious sci-fi horror musical with an electrifying 1960s rock/pop score. The nerdy florist assistant, Seymour Krelbourn, discovers a strange and interesting plant which he names "Audrey II" after his co-worker crush, Audrey. As he tends to Audrey II, he discovers that this foul-mouthed and demanding plant has a rather unique appetite and intends to take over the world! Will Audrey II succeed in world domination, or will Seymour and Audrey defeat it?

Come and join us for this charmingly tongue-in-cheek comedy, which will leave you thoroughly entertained.

Tuesday 12 - Saturday 16 November at 7pm (2pm matinee and 7pm evening performance on Saturday 16 November)
